1 TO ALL PARTIES AND TO THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendant Randall Wulff ("Wulff") hereby moves the 3 Court for an Order dismissing this Action or, in the alternative, granting Summary Judgment in 4 his favor pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("FRCP"), Rules 12(b) and 56, and for an 5 order under FRCP Rule 12(f) striking all of the state law claims against Wulff.

6 This Motion to Dismiss is brought on the grounds that Plaintiff Mani Subramanian's 7 ("Subramanian") claims against Wulff are barred by (1) res judicata, (2) California law providing 8 Wulff with quasi-judicial immunity, (3) the "litigation" privilege of California Civil 9 Code section 47(b), and (4) the Noerr-Pennington doctrine. This Motion to Dismiss may also be 10 considered as an alternative motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the FRCP on the 11 grounds that there are no genuine issues of material fact that the allegations against Wulff 12 encompass his acts as a court-ordered mediator, or those of his attorneys in prior related litigation, 13 entitling him to absolute protection from civil liability under quasi-judicial immunity. This 14 Motion to Strike is brought under FRCP 12(f) on the grounds that California's Code of Civil 15 Procedure ("CCP") Section 425.16 (the "Anti-SLAPP" procedure) precludes the state law claims 16 based on litigation conduct which is protected speech.

17 These motions are based on the accompanying Memorandum of Points and Authorities; 18 the supporting Declaration of Andrew Ingersoll; the accompanying Request for Judicial Notice; 19 and such other matters as the Court may receive.

20 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

21 I. INTRODUCTION

22 Undeterred by the Ninth Circuit's affirmance of more than $50,000 in sanctions against 23 him in earlier litigation involving the same operative facts alleged here, and the related dismissal 24 of claims against Wulff and others, Subramanian attempts by this Complaint to relitigate issues 25 already finally and correctly decided by this Court.

26 This lawsuit is the latest chapter in a string of frivolous lawsuits and related pleadings 27 Subramanian has pursued in state and federal courts originally stemming from a dispute between 28 Subramanian and his companies, Vedatech Inc. and Vedatech K.K. (collectively "Vedatech"), on

1 the one hand, and QAD, Inc. and QAD Japan, K.K. (“QAD”), on the other. The present lawsuit 2 differs from the earlier federal case involving Wulff only in that the generalized claims of 3 conspiracy and fraud – expanded to encompass claims of constitutional violations and violations 4 of the federal Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization Act, 16 U.S.C. § 1961 et seq.
 5 (“RICO”) – now include allegations that Wulff’s attorneys attempted to (for example) “corruptly 6 influence the court” (Complaint at ¶ 165) and “corruptly obtain[] a judgment” (id. at ¶ 166), and 7 that St. Paul’s, QAD’s and Wulff’s actions in the prior litigation constituted a “fraud upon the 8 court” (id. at ¶ 176). The new Complaint also multiplies the parties alleged to have participated 9 in the conspiracy by more than doubling the number of defendants from the previous suit.

10 This Court’s appropriate admonishment in the previous litigation that Subramanian 11 “recklessly and in bad faith, multiplied the legal proceedings against Wulff by recklessly raising 12 frivolous arguments regarding the inapplicability of [Howard v. Drapkin, 222 Cal. App. 3d 843 13 (1990)],”¹ is even more appropriate now. Under the circumstances, and as Howard explicitly 14 recognizes (id. at 864), the claims against Wulff should be dismissed before further judicial and 15 party resources are needlessly expended.

16 Subramanian’s claims against Wulff are barred for several reasons: (1) because this Court 17 already addressed and dismissed virtually identical claims in the earlier litigation, res judicata 18 precludes their assertion here; (2) even were res judicata not applicable, the same controlling case 19 law governing absolute quasi-judicial immunity supporting that earlier decision and its affirmance 20 in the court of appeal commands dismissal here; (3) the litigation privilege in California Civil 21 Code section 47(b), while not relied upon by this Court in its order dismissing the first lawsuit 22 against Wulff, precludes state law claims against Wulff, who acted as a mediator or who, through 23 his attorneys, undertook actions to defend against the first lawsuit; (4) the Noerr-Pennington 24 doctrine precludes the claims because they are based exclusively on the protected litigation-25 related conduct of Wulff and his attorneys; and (5) because the Complaint is based on Wulff’s 26

27 ¹ June 22, 2005 Order in Case 04-1249 (“Dismissal Order”) at 33:1820; complete order attached 28 as Exhibit A to Randall Wulff’s Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Motions to Dismiss, for Summary Judgment and/or to Strike Complaint, filed herewith (“RJN”).

1 conduct as a mediator in the underlying litigation and on allegations regarding arguments by 2 Wulff's attorneys in defending against the earlier lawsuit, all of the state law claims should be 3 stricken under CCP section 425.16.

4 II. STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

5 A. Should all claims against Wulff be barred by the doctrine of res judicata based on 6 the final adjudication of identical claims asserted by Subramanian in prior litigation involving the 7 same nucleus of operative facts where those claims were dismissed and the dismissal order was 8 upheld on appeal?

9 B. Should all claims against Wulff based on his acts as a mediator, or the acts of his 10 attorneys in defending him against earlier litigation involving virtually the same allegations, be 11 barred by quasi-judicial immunity under California law, by the privileges afforded by California 12 Civil Code section 47(b), and by the Noerr-Pennington doctrine, or alternatively be subject to 13 summary judgment?

14 C. Should all state law claims against Wulff be stricken pursuant to FRCP Rule 12(f)
 15 and CCP section 425.16 because they arise wholly out of protected speech in the litigation 16 context?

17 III. FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

18 Subramanian's claims against Wulff in this suit track the allegations resolved by an earlier 19 lawsuit in this Court (the "Vedatech lawsuit").² While Subramanian has added a few allegations 20 redescribing Wulff's actions at the mediation (see, e.g., Complaint at ¶¶ 124-25), the only truly 21 "new" allegations involve positions taken, and arguments made, by Wulff's attorneys in 22 defending against Subramanian's claims in the Vedatech lawsuit (see, e.g., id. at ¶¶ 147-149, 151, 23 154-157, 165-166, 172-174).³

24

25 ² The factual allegations and litigation history underlying this lawsuit are largely covered by this 26 Court's order dismissing the claims in the Vedatech lawsuit, which involved three consolidated 27 cases, CV-04-1249, 1818 and 1403. (See Dismissal Order, RJD Exh. A, as affirmed by order of 28 the Court of Appeals on July 19, 2007, Appeal No. 05-16255, RJD Exh. B.)

³ Many of these same allegations were already addressed by the Vedatech plaintiffs in their briefing in that litigation and were resolved by the Court in that litigation.

1 A. Factual Allegations Regarding The QAD-Vedatech Relationship.

2 This dispute stems from approximately 1997, when QAD apparently terminated its 3 relationship with Subramanian and Vedatech. (Complaint at ¶¶ 29-31; see also First Amended 4 Complaint in the Vedatech lawsuit (“FAC”) at ¶ 24, attached with Exhibit A thereto as RJN Exh.
 5 C.) Lawsuits and countersuits ensued and ultimately included Vedatech’s insurer, Defendant 6 St. Paul. Subramanian alleges that St. Paul frustrated Vedatech’s retention of counsel and 7 ultimately stopped paying for counsel to defend them and to prosecute their substantive claims, 8 requiring Subramanian to appear pro se since June 2002. (Complaint at ¶¶ 72-100; FAC ¶¶ 30-9 31.)

10 B. Allegations Involving Wulff’s Participation As A Mediator.

11 In November 2003, the Vedatech plaintiffs suggested Wulff as a possible mediator to 12 resolve the various complaints and cross-complaints between the parties in the underlying 13 litigation. (FAC at ¶ 32.) At a hearing on January 13, 2004, the Santa Clara County Superior 14 Court ordered the parties to submit their various disputes to mediation before Wulff. (Complaint 15 at ¶¶ 116-18; FAC at ¶ 33.) Plaintiffs “did not object.” (FAC at ¶ 37.)

16 On March 4, 2004, the Superior Court entered a Stipulation and Order Regarding 17 Mediation (“Order”). (Complaint at ¶ 120; FAC at ¶¶ 40 and 46.)⁴ The Order required 18 that Subramanian and Vedatech, as well as Defendants St. Paul and QAD, participate in the 19 mediation before Wulff scheduled for March 12, 2004. (See RJN Exh. D at ¶¶ 1-3.) Wulff’s fee 20 for the mediation was ordered paid in equal parts by St. Paul and QAD. (Id. at ¶ 7.) The Order 21 further provided that:

22 Each party shall be prepared to sign an agreement with the 23 mediator at the mediation . . . such as the mediator may desire, 24 which protects the mediator from personal liability, defines his 25 role, and protects communications made to him from compelled disclosure, as is customary. . . . The parties shall abide by the usual, ordinary and customary confidentiality rules governing mediations . . .

26
 27
 28 ⁴ See also RJN Exh. D (March 4, 2004 Stipulation and Order Regarding Mediation).

1 (Id. at ¶ 4 (emphasis added).) California Evidence Code sections 1115 through 1128 were 2 incorporated by reference into the Order, and made explicitly applicable to the mediation.
 3 (Id. at ¶ 5.) California Evidence Code section 1119, pertaining to confidentiality requirements for 4 mediation, was set forth in the Order in full. (Id.)

5 On March 12, 2004, as ordered, the mediation was held before Wulff. (Complaint at 6 ¶¶ 121-138; FAC at ¶ 41.) Subramanian (appearing in pro per) and Vedatech, Inc. (represented 7 by counsel) participated in the mediation. (Complaint at ¶¶ 124-129; FAC at ¶ 52.)⁵ 8 Subramanian and Vedatech reviewed copies of Wulff's standard form of Confidentiality 9 Agreement and the Mediation Procedures document clearly explaining the limitations on Wulff's 10 conflicts check and disclosure. (FAC at ¶ 52.)⁶ Subramanian insisted that he would only sign a 11 version of the Confidentiality Agreement containing his edits. (Id.) Wulff reviewed 12 Subramanian's modified bilateral draft with Plaintiffs and discussed the document's provisions.
 13 (FAC at ¶¶ 52, 53.) Subramanian and two attorneys for Vedatech signed the modified 14 Agreement. (FAC at ¶ 56; Exh. 1, Ingersoll Decl. at p. 2.) Despite these allegations underlying 15 the Vedatech lawsuit, Subramanian now claims that Wulff "exerted duress" and 16 "misrepresent[ed] the extent of disclosure regarding his prior contacts with counsel," and "forced 17 the Vedatech parties to sign a document . . ." (Complaint at ¶¶ 126-127 (emphasis added).)

18 The Confidentiality Agreement provided that "all parties agree that the mediator . . . ha[s] 19 no liability for any act or omission in connection with the mediation." (Exh. 1, Ingersoll Decl. at 20 p. 1.) Subramanian read the Confidentiality Agreement before agreeing to be bound by its terms, 21 even making a change at an unrelated point in the quoted sentence. (Id.)

22 Subramanian and Vedatech's counsel left the mediation at 4:00 p.m. (Complaint at ¶ 129; 23 FAC at ¶ 57.) The other parties remained. St. Paul and QAD reached a settlement resolving 24 QAD's claims against Vedatech (St. Paul's insured) and Subramanian. (Complaint at ¶¶ 138-25 144; FAC, at Exh. A, p. 3, ¶¶ 1, 3.) The settlement agreement was drafted explicitly so as not to 26 ⁵ See also "Confidentiality Agreement," signed by Subramanian and Vedatech's counsel, 27 Declaration of Andrew W. Ingersoll in Support of Motions to Dismiss, for Summary Judgment and/or to Strike Complaint, filed herewith ("Ingersoll Decl."), Exh. 1 at p. 2.

28 ⁶ See also Exh. 2, Ingersoll Decl.

1 impair either Vedatech's or Subramanian's right to pursue any affirmative claims against QAD or 2 Vedatech's coverage claims against its insurer St. Paul. (FAC, at Exh. A, p. 5, ¶¶ 8, 9.)

3 Unhappy with the settlement, the Vedatech plaintiffs filed the Vedatech lawsuit against 4 QAD and St. Paul. After defendants moved to dismiss, but before any ruling by the Court, the 5 Vedatech plaintiffs filed the FAC adding Wulff as a defendant. The FAC alleged, inter alia, 6 fraud, constructive fraud, negligent misrepresentation, conspiracy and unfair competition.

7 C. Post-Mediation Allegations.

8 The remainder of Subramanian's allegations involving Wulff stem entirely from positions 9 Wulff's attorneys took while defending Wulff against the claims in the Vedatech lawsuit. These 10 allegations claim that Wulff's attorneys:

- 11 1. filed allegedly false declarations with the court (although Plaintiff admits that he has 12 already [unsuccessfully] argued this point to the Court in the Vedatech lawsuit) 13 (Complaint at ¶¶ 147-48);
- 14 2. argued that Subramanian should be sanctioned (id. at ¶ 151);
- 15 3. maintained these positions on appeal (id. at ¶ 154); and
- 16 4. made alleged misrepresentations to "corruptly influence the court" in written briefs
 17 and oral arguments on appeal by, for instance, "denigrating SUBRAMANIAN'S 18 status as a pro se litigant . . . in a derogatory and corrupt way." (Id. at ¶ 165; see also 19 ¶ 166.)⁷

 22 ⁷ In fact, the argument was entirely benign. Counsel for Wulff stated, for instance, "This is not a 23 situation in reality of a pro se defendant who is any pro se defendant. If you look at the excerpt of 24 record, page one and following, you will see that he has always employed many lawyers, major 25 law firms on occasion, international law firms on occasion. He has always had at least one 26 attorney at his side and at least two attorneys throughout the litigation in Federal Court here. If 27 you look at the record, the supplemental excerpts of record at Exhibit S, you will see the manner 28 in which he refers to himself. His e-mail address is prosedefendant@Yahoo.com. We – we submit that this is a reflection of the fact that this has become something of an avocation for him and something that is inappropriate at every level." (Certified Reporter's Transcript of Audiotape of Oral Argument of May 16, 2007, attached as Exh. 3 to Ingersoll Decl., at 21:16-22:7.) The entirety of counsel's arguments can be found at 20:23-23:12. The exhibit counsel presented to the appellate panel summarizing the litigation chronology of the four cases, and the multiplication of proceedings up to that point, is also attached as Exh. 4 to the Ingersoll Decl.

1 Subramanian further alleges that “the actions taken by WULFF after the ‘mediation’ were 2 not in any capacity as a mediator but simply as a civil litigant, so that to the extent the Court may 3 find any immunity for Wulff for activities regarding any ‘mediation,’ they do not apply to the 4 facts alleged herein regarding obstruction of justice etc., and WULFF may not escape liability by 5 means of claiming immunity.” (Id. at ¶ 173 (emphasis added).)

6 D. This Court’s Ruling In The Vedatech Lawsuit.

7 This Court dismissed all of the claims against Wulff in the Vedatech lawsuit on the 8 ground that California law on quasi-judicial immunity precluded tort claims against Wulff. The 9 Court imposed $15,000 in Rule 11 sanctions against Subramanian, personally, for a frivolous 10 Rule 11 motion brought against Wulff, and $5,000 against Vedatech’s counsel. In addition, the 11 Court conducted a thorough analysis of the pleadings as to Wulff and awarded Wulff $22,584 in 12 costs and fees for having to defend against the unreasonable and vexatious proceedings filed by 13 the Vedatech plaintiffs. (Dismissal Order at 32:26-36:6.) The Court wrote that: “[it] agrees that 14 Vedatech and Subramanian, recklessly and in bad faith, multiplied the legal proceedings against 15 Wulff by recklessly raising frivolous arguments regarding the inapplicability of [Howard, 222 16 Cal. App. 3d at 847].” (Id. at 33:17-20.) The Court found that the arguments raised by the 17 Vedatech plaintiffs were “substantively indefensible” and evidenced “a fundamental ignorance 18 (either intentional or reckless) of the ability to read case law.” (Id. at 33:24 and 34:11-13.) The 19 Court explicitly warned Subramanian that more extensive sanctions would be imposed if he failed 20 to cease: “Subramanian is admonished, however, that the court will not hesitate to impose much 21 harsher Rule 11 sanctions should he continue to engage in the conduct described in this order.”
 22 (Id. at 23:26-24:1.) So egregious were the Vedatech plaintiffs’ filings in that litigation that the 23 Court found “the only way to deter Subramanian” was to impose sanctions of $1,000 per page for 24 any future frivolous filings, including any “new frivolous cause of action.” (Id. at 24:1-5.) The 25 238 paragraph, 54 page Complaint at issue followed.

1 The Ninth Circuit affirmed this Court in all respects.⁸ On December 27, 2007, this Court 2 entered judgment. (Case No. 04-01249, Dkt. No. 181.) Subramanian has paid none of the 3 sanctions awarded, however. Instead he has moved to set aside the judgment (twice), has moved 4 to alter or amend the judgment, and has filed this new lawsuit. On June 16, 2008, the Court 5 ordered this case related to the Vedatech case (Case No. 04-01249, Dkt. No. 221), and on July 17, 6 2008 the Court entered an order denying Subramanian's first motion to set aside the judgment, 7 ordering him to make payments by July 31 and conditionally granting motions brought by St.
 8 Paul and Wulff for an Order to Show Cause re Contempt for Subramanian's failure to pay and for 9 a debtor's exam of Subramanian (Dkt. No. 231). In or about late July 2008 Subramanian filed 10 further pleadings attacking that order.

11 IV. LEGAL ARGUMENT

12 The claims against Wulff in this lawsuit are barred by (1) res judicata, (2) California law
 13 on quasi-judicial immunity, (3) the California litigation privilege of Civil Code Section 47(b),⁹ 14 (4) the Noerr-Pennington doctrine, and (5) the California Anti-SLAPP procedure for striking 15 improper pleadings.¹⁰ Alternatively, and to preclude Subramanian from prolonging this saga by 16 voluntarily dismissing the Complaint only to refile it later, Wulff asks the Court to enter summary 17 judgment under Rule 56(f), taking all facts alleged in the Complaint to be true.

18 A. Subramanian's Claims Are Barred By Res Judicata.

19 The dismissal of all claims against Wulff in the Vedatech lawsuit bars all of 20 Subramanian's claims here on grounds of res judicata. Res judicata "bars re-litigation of all 21 grounds of recovery that were asserted, or could have been asserted, in a previous action between 22 the parties, where the previous action was resolved on the merits." Tahoe Sierra Preservation

⁸ RJN Exh. B (Order affirming District Court) and Exh. E (Decree of Judgment).

25

⁹ In the Vedatech lawsuit, the District Court precluded claims against Wulff on grounds of 26 absolute quasi-judicial immunity, and it did not rule on his claims of immunity based on Civil Code Section 47. (Dismissal Order, RJN Exh. A, at 29:15-18.) Nevertheless, the defense remains applicable here.

27

¹⁰ Because the claims against Wulff are entirely barred, this brief does not substantively challenge 28 the claims, but to the extent this Court deems such an analysis necessary, Wulff incorporates by reference the arguments contained in the remaining defendants' motions to dismiss.

1 Council, Inc. v. Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, 322 F.3d 1064, 1078 (9th Cir. 2003). “Res 2 judicata is applicable whenever there is (1) an identity of claims, (2) a final judgment on the 3 merits, and (3) privity between parties.” Stratosphere Litig. LLC v. Grand Casinos, Inc., 298 4 F.3d 1137, 1143 n.3 (9th Cir. 2002) (citing Owens v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., 244 F.3d 5 708, 713 (9th Cir. 2001)). As discussed below, this lawsuit meets all three elements of the test.

6 The rationale behind the doctrine is particularly apt here:

7 The doctrine of res judicata provides that “a final judgment on the 8 merits bars further claims by parties or their privies based on the 9 same cause of action.” The application of this doctrine is 10 “central to the purpose for which civil courts have been 11 established, the conclusive resolution of disputes within their jurisdiction.” Moreover, a rule precluding parties from the contestation of matters already fully and fairly litigated “conserves judicial resources” and “fosters reliance on judicial action by minimizing the possibility of inconsistent decisions.”

12 In re Schimmels, 127 F.3d 875, 881 (9th Cir. 1997) (emphasis added) (quoting Montana v. United 13 States, 440 U.S. 147, 153-54 (1979)).

14 The burden on private parties faced with duplicative litigation is also an important 15 consideration. As the Ninth Circuit has stated: “The private values protected include shielding 16 litigants from the burden of re-litigating identical issues with the same party, and vindicating 17 private parties’ interest in repose.” Clements v. Airport Auth., 69 F.3d 321, 330 (9th Cir. 1995).
 18 Here, the nature of the claims against Wulff in both lawsuits – reckless in the first lawsuit, 19 repeated in this second suit¹¹ – impose significant hardship on him and represent the worst kind of 20 waste of judicial resources, which the rule was intended to prevent.

21 In considering the first element for proving res judicata, it is manifest that there is an 22 identity of claims. “Whether two events are part of the same transaction or series depends on 23 whether they are related to the same set of facts and whether they could conveniently be tried 24 together.” Western Sys., Inc. v. Ulloa, 958 F.2d 864, 871 (9th Cir. 1992). The two suits must 25 ¹¹ This is actually the sixth lawsuit related to the Vedatech-QAD relationship (see, e.g., 26 February 21, 2007 order in Case No. 06-3050 (“This case stems from four prior cases . . .”)). In 27 that Order, the Court dismissed Subramanian’s claims (against many of the same parties to this 28 case) on res judicata grounds because, as here, they involved claims that “were litigated or could have been litigated” in his prior actions. (Order at 18.) The Court also awarded $47,000 in sanctions against Subramanian for the “frivolous” arguments dismissed therein. (Id. at 22.)

1 arise from “the same transactional nucleus of facts.” Owens, 244 F.3d at 714. As detailed in 2 Sections III.A-C above, there can be no question that this lawsuit complains of the exact same 3 “transactional nucleus” as in the Vedatech lawsuit: Wulff’s mediation of the earlier dispute.

4 Subramanian has asserted “causes of action” against Wulff to “Set Aside the Order and 5 Judgment,”¹² for a civil “RICO” violation, for fraud and for “Violation of Civil and Constitutional 6 Rights.”¹³ While some of these claims were not asserted in the Vedatech lawsuit, this does not 7 justify the present action because res judicata precludes “claim splitting.” See, e.g., Davis v. Sun
 8 Oil Co., 148 F.3d 606, 613 (6th Cir. 1998) (per curiam) (referring to the doctrine against claim-9 splitting as “the ‘other action pending’ facet of the res judicata doctrine”). Because the claims in 10 this Complaint stem from the 2004 mediation that was the subject of the Vedatech lawsuit, 11 Subramanian has impermissibly split causes of action. See, e.g., Adams v. California Dept. of 12 Health Services, 487 F.3d 684, 689-90 (9th Cir. 2007).

13 As to the second element, it is indisputable that there has been a final judgment on the 14 merits in the Vedatech lawsuit. This Court dismissed all of the claims against Wulff with 15 prejudice, finding them barred by California’s doctrine of quasi-judicial immunity, and entered 16 judgment. (See Dismissal Order at 25:17-29:20.) Dismissal for failure to state a claim under 17 FRCP 12(b)(6) is a “final judgment on the merits” for purposes of res judicata. Federated Dep’t 18 Stores v. Moitie, 452 U.S. 394, 399 n.3 (1981). The Vedatech plaintiffs unsuccessfully appealed 19 the dismissal and this Court entered judgment on all claims against Wulff (leaving open only one 20 state court claim against another defendant) on December 27, 2007. (Case No. 04-1429, Dkt.
 21 No. 181.)

22 Despite the Ninth Circuit’s ruling – upholding the District Court’s opinion in all respects – 23 Subramanian “disputes that WULFF is eligible for immunity for any federal cause of action, and 24 to the extent plaintiff can get relief from the judgment granting immunity for state law causes of

 26 ¹² This is not a valid claim, but an improper collateral attack on a valid judgment. The claim was 27 recast by Subramanian in a motion (Case No. 04-1249, Dkt. 202), that this Court has since 28 denied. Consequently, the claim need not be further addressed in this Motion.

¹³ Although immaterial to resolution of this Motion, it is not clear whether Subramanian includes Wulff among the class of defendants to his claim under the Unfair Competition statute.

1 action, disputes immunity for WULFF for any state cause of action also.” (Complaint at ¶ 172.)
 2 Subramanian is a sophisticated pro se litigant who has filed numerous appeals and at least one 3 writ of certiorari with the United States Supreme Court in an earlier related case involving QAD.
 4 (See CV-04-01806-PJH and related appeal No. 04-16416, at Dkt. No. 26.) Subramanian 5 understands the purposes of appeals and the effects of losing on appeal – thus, his efforts to base 6 this complaint on already-denied challenges to this legal ruling suggests that the true purpose and 7 effect in bringing this lawsuit is to harass Wulff.

8 The third element, privity between parties, is satisfied here as well. For purposes of res 9 judicata, privity exists when a party is “so identified in interest with a party to former litigation 10 that he represents precisely the same right in respect to the subject matter involved.”
 11 Stratosphere Litig. LLC, 298 F.3d at 1143. Here, Subramanian was a plaintiff in the Vedatech 12 lawsuit, and Wulff and many of the other named defendants were parties to that suit as well. It is 13 no defense that Subramanian has added additional defendants, as the claims are identical. See 14 Lubrizol Corp. v. Exxon Corp., 929 F.2d 960, 966 (3d Cir. 1991) (“res judicata may be invoked 15 against a plaintiff who has previously asserted essentially the same claim against different 16 defendants where there is a close or significant relationship between successive defendants”).

17 B. Subramanian’s Claims Against Wulff Are Barred By California Law On 18 Absolute Quasi-Judicial Immunity, By The Litigation Privilege Of Civil Code 19 Section 47(b) And By The Noerr-Pennington Doctrine.

20 Subramanian’s claims against Wulff here are barred by California law or by the federal 21 Noerr-Pennington doctrine. The Ninth Circuit has upheld the dismissal of the state law claims 22 and nothing has changed to warrant a different result here.

23 1. The Doctrine Of Absolute Quasi-Judicial Immunity Precludes
 24 Subramanian’s Claims Against Wulff.

25 As a court-appointed mediator, Wulff performed quasi-judicial functions and is absolutely 26 protected from civil liability under both (1) the California common law doctrine of quasi-judicial 27 immunity and (2) the statutory “litigation” privilege of California Civil Code section 47(b).
 28 Howard, 222 Cal. App. 3d at 864 (“The absolute immunity and [statutory] privilege . . . must protect [the mediator] from suit. If such protection is to be meaningful it must be effective to 1 prevent suits such as this one from going beyond demurrer.”). The Howard holding is controlling 2 California authority mandating that all claims against Wulff be dismissed.

3 This Court’s ruling dismissing the claims in the Vedatech lawsuit is clear:

4 Quite appropriately, Wulff cites Howard in support of his motion to 5 dismiss all claims against him in this case.
 6 . . .
 7 Under Howard, Wulff is immune from all claims asserted against him in the FAC.

8 (Dismissal Order at 27:27-28 and 29:13-14.)¹⁴

9 Howard v. Drapkin applies here. In the Vedatech lawsuit, Subramanian admitted that he 10 was ordered by Judge Komar to mediation before Wulff. (See Excerpt of Transcript of 11 September 16, 2004 Hearing (“Transcript”), Ingersoll Decl., Exh. 5 at 38:12-19.) He also 12 conceded: “Howard v. Drapkin does not necessitate that the mediator be a court-appointed 13 mediator in order to qualify under its reasoning for absolute immunity.” (Id. at 54:25-55:2.) As 14 the Court noted, Subramanian’s arguments to the contrary in the Vedatech lawsuit displayed “a 15 fundamental ignorance (either intentional or reckless) of the ability to read case law.” (Dismissal 16 Order, RJN Exh. A, at 34:11-13.) The continued assertion of claims in this latest lawsuit, after a 17 failed appeal and the imposition of sanctions, crosses the line to gross recklessness. As before, 18 any claims against Wulff ultimately derive from his role and conduct as a court-appointed 19 mediator and should therefore be dismissed with prejudice.

20 2. The Litigation Privilege Of California Civil Code Section 47 Precludes 21 Subramanian’s State Law Claims Against Wulff.

22 In addition to quasi-judicial immunity, the California Civil Code bars Subramanian’s state 23 law claims against Wulff based on communications connected to or made in the course of his 24 conduct as a mediator,¹⁵ as well as that of his attorneys in the Vedatech lawsuit. See Cal. Civ.

¹⁴ See also Order of the Court of Appeals, RJN Exh. B, at p. 8 (“A mediator, such as Randall 26 Wulff, “fulfilling a quasi-judicial function intimately related to the judicial process” qualifies for such immunity. [Howard] at 854.”).

¹⁵ Although the litigation privilege of Section 47(b) may not be applicable to some claims based 28 on federal statutes, Mr. Wulff’s quasi-judicial immunity under Howard unquestionably applies to all of Subramanian’s claims. See Kimes v. Stone, 84 F.3d 1121, 1127 (9th Cir. 1996) (disallowing

1 Code § 47(b); see also Kashian v. Harriman, 98 Cal. App. 4th 892, 912 (2002) (“Civil Code 2 section 47, subdivision (b) defines what is commonly known as the ‘[L]itigation [P]rivilege.’”).
 3 The Litigation Privilege applies to communications: “(1) made in judicial or quasi-judicial 4 proceedings; (2) by litigants or other participants authorized by law; (3) to achieve the objects of 5 the litigation; and (4) that have some connection or logical relation to the action.” Silberg v.
 6 Anderson, 50 Cal. 3d 205, 212 (1990). Further, the privilege applies “to any communication . . .
 7 and all torts except malicious prosecution” and to communications “outside the courtroom and 8 [where] no function of the court or its officers is involved.” Id. (citations omitted).

9 The allegations against Wulff in this lawsuit are but a different version of those contained 10 in the Vedatech lawsuit and, as in that lawsuit, fall squarely within those protected by 11 Section 47(b). All of them – including those that also violate the Anti-SLAPP procedure (see 12 below) – are connected to Wulff’s efforts to conduct the court-ordered mediation. For instance, 13 Subramanian describes the process at the outset of the mediation (Complaint at ¶¶ 122-25), 14 alleges that the conflicts check and disclosures were inadequate (Complaint at ¶ 126; compare 15 FAC at ¶¶ 48, 51-53, 55), alleges that the mediation allowed St. Paul and QAD to conduct their 16 fraud in secrecy (Complaint at ¶¶ 130, 135-36; compare FAC at ¶¶ 42, 48, 52-53, 55), and 17 complains about continuation of the mediation as between St. Paul and QAD after Plaintiffs left 18 (Complaint at ¶¶ 134-44; compare FAC at ¶¶ 57-59).

19 Subramanian’s additional allegations involving the acts of Wulff’s attorneys in the 20 Vedatech lawsuit are similarly protected. (Complaint at ¶¶ 147-151, 154-57, 165-66.) This is 21 true even where the alleged communications could be in furtherance of allegedly fraudulent aims:

22 [C]ommunications made in connection with litigation do not 23 necessarily fall outside the privilege simply because they are, or are 24 alleged to be, fraudulent, perjurious, unethical, or even illegal. This 25 is assuming, of course, that the communications are “logically 26 related” to the litigation. The communications in this case were 27 not only related to the litigation, they were the litigation, or 28 more accurately the pleadings in the litigation.

27 the state law Section 47 defense for private actors in the context of claims arising under 28 42 U.S.C. § 1983 but affirming dismissal of all claims against state court judge, citing Ashelman
v. Pope 793 F.2d 1072 (9th Cir. 1986) (en banc)).

1 Kashian, 98 Cal. App. 4th at 920 (dismissing California Unfair Competition claims, among 2 others) (emphasis added); see also Rothman v. Jackson, 49 Cal. App. 4th 1134, 1145 (1996) (“[A] 3 communication is privileged under section 47(b) if made in, or in anticipation of, litigation by 4 litigants or other authorized participants to achieve the objects of the litigation, and if the 5 communication has some connection or logical relation to the action.”) (citing, among others, 6 Silberg v. Anderson, 50 Cal. 3d 205, 212 (1990)). Here, much as in Kashian, Subramanian’s only 7 new allegations are that the filings and oral statements made by Wulff’s attorneys trigger liability.
8 But, as in Kashian, the Litigation Privilege compels dismissal of these vexatious claims.

3. The Noerr-Pennington Doctrine Separately Supports Dismissal Of All Claims Asserted Against Wulff.

The federal common law Noerr-Pennington doctrine separately supports dismissal of all of Subramanian’s claims against Wulff, including those based on federal law. Under this doctrine, “those who petition any department of the government for redress are generally immune from statutory liability for their petitioning conduct.” Sosa v. DIRECTV, Inc., 437 F.3d 923, 929 (9th Cir. 2006). Such protected conduct includes litigation activity. See, e.g., California Motor Transport Co. v. Trucking Unlimited, 404 U.S. 508, 510-11 (1972). Here, because the acts underlying Subramanian’s claims against Wulff all stem from or involve the participation of Wulff or his attorneys in ongoing litigation, the federal common law Noerr-Pennington doctrine separately supports dismissal of those claims with prejudice. See, e.g., Sosa, 437 F.3d at 942 (dismissing RICO claim based on pre-litigation demand letter); Manistee Town Center v. City of Glendale, 227 F.3d 1090, 1093 (9th Cir. 2000) (affirming dismissal of claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983); and Meridian Project Systems, Inc. v. Hardin Const. Co., LLC, 404 F. Supp. 2d 1214 (E.D. Cal. 2005) (dismissing state law claims including a claim under California’s unfair competition statute). That some of the communications underlying Subramanian’s claims arose in the context of a mediation, as opposed to in court, changes nothing. See Columbia Pictures Indus., Inc. v. Professional Real Estate Investors, Inc., 944 F.2d 1525, 1528-29 (9th Cir. 1991), aff’d, 508 U.S. 49 (1993) (petitions directly to court and communications “incidental to the prosecution of the suit,” such as those involving settlement communications, are protected by the 1 doctrine). Plainly, Noerr-Pennington provides a separate ground compelling dismissal of 2 Subramanian's ill-conceived claims against Wulff.

3 C. In The Alternative, Summary Judgment Should Be Granted On The Claims 4 Against Wulff.

5 As an alternative ground for disposing of this unmeritorious lawsuit, and without 6 prejudice to the motion to dismiss or motion to strike, Wulff seeks an order granting summary
 7 judgment in his favor pursuant to FRCP Rules 12(b) and 56. For purposes of this Motion, Wulff 8 accepts as true every allegation in the new Complaint. Subramanian's claims are barred by 9 mediator immunity under California common law. Subramanian has categorically admitted that 10 Judge Komar ordered the Vedatech plaintiffs to mediation before Wulff (Transcript at 38:12-19).
 11 Moreover, as Subramanian also concedes, "Howard v. Drapkin does not necessitate that the 12 mediator be a court-appointed mediator in order to qualify under its reasoning for absolute 13 immunity." (Transcript at 54:25-55:2.) Immunity applies regardless of any imagined distinction 14 as to whether the mediator in a court-ordered mediation is properly considered "court-appointed."

15 This Court's ruling should preclude any possibility that Subramanian, who has filed nearly 16 a dozen separate actions in this Court (when considering the multiple removal petitions) related to 17 the underlying controversy, is able to reassert claims against Wulff. Anything less would 18 frustrate the purpose behind mediator immunity which, as Howard explained, is to discourage 19 "inappropriate collateral attacks" and to insulate mediators "from vexatious actions prosecuted by 20 disgruntled litigants." Howard, 222 Cal. App. 3d at 852 (citations omitted). Indeed, "if such 21 protection is to be meaningful it must be effective to prevent suits such as this one from going 22 beyond demurrer." Id. at 905.

23 Under Rule 41(a), this motion for summary judgment means that Subramanian cannot 24 avoid resolution in this Court by preemptively withdrawing his Complaint. FRCP Rule 25 41(a)(1)(i). Any dismissal can now only be by stipulation or court order. Either way, in order to 26 achieve the purposes articulated by Howard, it is imperative that dismissal be with prejudice and 27 without leave to amend.

28

1 In order to ensure that Subramanian's harassing and vexatious litigation is put to a final 2 end, the Court should either (1) dismiss this action with prejudice and without leave to amend 3 under Rule 12(b)(6), or (2) grant Wulff summary judgment under Rule 56.

4 D. Subramanian's State Law Claims Should Be Stricken Under California's 5 Anti-SLAPP Law.

6 Because Subramanian's claims arise out of the conduct of Wulff as a mediator or the 7 conduct of his attorneys in the Vedatech lawsuit, his state law claims should be stricken under 8 California Anti-SLAPP procedure. CCP § 425.16.¹⁶ "SLAPP" is an acronym for "strategic 9 lawsuit against public participation." Decker v. U.D. Registry, Inc., 105 Cal. App. 4th 1382, 1385 10 (2003). The Anti-SLAPP protection applies where "but for . . . actions taken in connection with 11 [earlier] litigation, [the plaintiff's] present claims would have no basis." Navellier v. Sletten, 29 12 Cal. 4th 82, 90 (2002). Under the statute, "a cause of action against a person arising from any act 13 of that person in furtherance of the person's right of petition or free speech under the United 14 States or California Constitution in connection with a public issue shall be subject to a special 15 motion to strike . . ." CCP § 425.16(b). In this diversity action, the District Court applies the 16 California Anti-SLAPP procedures. See United States ex rel. Newsham v. Lockheed Missiles &
 17 Space Co., 190 F.3d 963, 972 (9th Cir. 1999) ("[CCP § 425.16] and Rules 8, 12, and 56 can exist 18 side by side each controlling its own intended sphere of coverage without conflict . . . The Anti-19 SLAPP statute, moreover, is crafted to serve an interest not directly addressed by the Federal 20 Rules: the protection of the constitutional rights of freedom of speech and petition for redress of 21 grievances.") (citations omitted).

22
 23
 24

25 ¹⁶ As with the immunity from Subramanian's state law claims provided by California Civil Code 26 Section 47(b), Subramanian's federal claims may not be subject to California's Anti-SLAPP 27 procedure. Summit Media LLC v. City of Los Angeles, 530 F. Supp. 2d 1084, 1094 (C.D. Cal.
 28 2008) ("defendants sued in federal courts can bring anti-SLAPP motions to strike state law claims"). But the claims remains subject to dismissal under the Noerr-Pennington doctrine as discussed above. See also United States. v. Hempfling, 431 F. Supp. 2d 1069, 1084, n.8 (E.D.
 Cal. 2006) ("[T]he Noerr-Pennington doctrine is a cousin to modern anti-SLAPP statutes.").

1 1. The Actions Of Wulff And His Attorneys Are Protected Speech.

2 Resolving an Anti-SLAPP motion is a two-step process. First, the court must consider 3 whether the defendant and moving party has made a threshold showing that the challenged causes 4 of action arise from protected activity. Equilon Enters. v. Consumer Cause, Inc., 29 Cal. 4th 53, 5 60 (2002). “The moving defendant’s burden is to demonstrate that the act or acts of which the 6 plaintiff complains were taken ‘in furtherance of the [defendant]’s right of petition or free speech 7 under the United States or California Constitution in connection with a public issue,’ as defined in 8 the statute. (§ 425.16, subd. (b)(1).)” Id. at 67. The constitutional right to petition encompasses 9 any litigation activity before a judicial body. Navellier, 29 Cal. 4th at 90. While cases subject to 10 Anti-SLAPP proceedings typically involve allegations that a lawsuit was filed to squelch speech, 11 litigation activity defending against a lawsuit – especially a sham lawsuit by the very same 12 plaintiff– must be equally protected:

13 As used in this section, “act in furtherance of a person’s right of 14 petition or free speech under the United States or California 15 Constitution in connection with a public issue” includes: (1) any 16 written or oral statement or writing made before a legislative, 17 executive, or judicial proceeding, or any other official proceeding 18 authorized by law; (2) any written or oral statement or writing 19 made in connection with an issue under consideration or review 20 by a legislative, executive, or judicial body, or any other official 21 proceeding authorized by law.

22 CCP § 425.16(e) (emphasis added); see also Kashian, 98 Cal. App. 4th at 908 (“statements made 23 in connection with or in preparation of litigation are subject to section 425.16”) (citing Briggs v.
24 Eden Council for Hope & Opportunity, 19 Cal. 4th 1106, 1115 (1999)); and Jefferson v. Carey, 25 No. 98-3754, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11470, at *4-5 (N.D. Cal. July 20, 1999) (declaration of attorney absolutely privileged under Section 47(b)(2)).¹⁷

26 As outlined in Section III above, Subramanian complains about actions taken, and 27 statements made, by Wulff (during the underlying mediation) and by Wulff’s attorneys (during 28 the Vedatech lawsuit) that he feels should trigger liability. According to Subramanian, these ¹⁷ See also Order, Subramanian v. QAD et al., Case No. 06-3050, Dkt. No. 75, (Feb. 21, 2007). In that case, this Court dismissed Subramanian’s claims against many of the same defendants here for those defendants’ litigation activities. (Order at *9.) The Court also granted those defendants’ motions to strike and for attorneys’ fees. (Id. at *14.)

1 actions somehow prevented Wulff from being a “true ‘neutral’” (id. at ¶ 201), and included 2 Wulff’s “help” in “arrang[ing] the ‘mediation’” (id. at ¶ 213) and, with respect to the acts of 3 Wulff’s attorneys, constitute “fraud upon the court” (id. at ¶ 176), and consist of “false statements 4 in . . . court filings” (id. at ¶ 183.1). Subramanian even goes so far as to allege that Wulff is 5 potentially liable for his acts during the mediation and “his acts subsequent to the mediation.” 6 (Id. at ¶ 236.) Under Section 425.16 and the case law interpreting it, because the complained-of 7 actions were so clearly “made in connection with an issue under consideration or review by a . . .
 8 a judicial body,” the first step in the two-step Anti-SLAPP process is easily satisfied here.

9 2. Subramanian Cannot Establish A Probability That He Will Prevail.

10 Under the second step of the Anti-SLAPP procedure, where a prima facie showing of 11 protected speech is shown, the burden shifts to the non-moving party. Here, because the 12 statements of Wulff and his attorneys are protected, Subramanian must establish a “probability” 13 that he will prevail on the claims he has asserted. Equilon, 29 Cal. 4th at 61. This he cannot do.

14 To meet his burden, Subramanian must produce competent evidence showing that he has 15 “stated and substantiated a legally sufficient claim.” Briggs, 19 Cal. 4th at 1123. “The motion to 16 strike should be granted if, as a matter of law, the properly pleaded facts do not support a claim 17 for relief.” Seelig v. Infinity Broadcasting Corp., 97 Cal. App. 4th 798, 809 (2002). As discussed 18 above, Subramanian simply has no claim against Wulff, who is entitled to quasi-judicial 19 immunity and protected from suit based on the Litigation Privilege in California law, and as 20 already specifically found by this Court in its order dismissing the Vedatech lawsuit. Indeed, this 21 Court found his claims against Wulff in the Vedatech lawsuit were so baseless as to warrant 22 sanctions under 28 U.S.C. § 1927.¹⁸ Subramanian can produce no evidence showing that his 23 claims based on California law have merit and they should be stricken.

24

26 ¹⁸ The Court should also consider exercising its discretion in sanctioning Subramanian pursuant to 27 its June 22, 2005 Order and 28 U.S.C. § 1927. As discussed above, this Court already sanctioned 28 Subramanian for “frivolous” and “vexatious” conduct, and threatened further sanctions of $1,000 per page for any future frivolous filings. This Complaint, which simply repeats the losing arguments first brought in 2004, should qualify for imposition of such sanctions.

1 V. CONCLUSION

2 Whether through application of res judicata, absolute quasi-judicial immunity, the 3 Litigation Privilege of California Civil Code Section 47(b), the Noerr-Pennington doctrine, or 4 through California's Anti-SLAPP procedure, Subramanian's claims against Wulff in this latest 5 Complaint are wholly barred. Because there is no possible grounds for maintaining an action 6 against Wulff with respect to the mediation, the Court should order the claims dismissed with 7 prejudice.
